

Fire in the Voice

A New Year's Eve Celebration

Featuring the works of poet, Pablo Neruda

Join Jacinta V. White, of The Word Project, as she leads us in our 3rd annual poetry workshop celebrating the close of a year and the beginning of a new one, Saturday, December 31, 2011, 10:00 a.m. – 12:00 noon, (potluck at noon), at Healing Ground.

We will explore the works of renowned and acclaimed Latin-American poet Pablo Neruda (1923-1973), looking at his use of “fire” and how we can apply that symbolism—along with the symbolism of water, voice and silence— to our own life. We will read, share, discuss, write, fellowship, and be renewed! Bring a journal or a notebook, and a dish or beverage for the potluck to follow. A love donation is appreciated. No poetry writing experience is necessary to participate.

Limited space is available. Pre-registration is required no later than Friday, December 16. You can register online at www.healingground.org or by calling Healing Ground at 336-644-0076. Pat Bailey and Dee Irwin are the co-directors of Healing Ground located at 7628 Penns Grove Road, Summerfield, NC 27358 (close to Greensboro and Winston-Salem).

For more information about The Word Project, visit www.poetryheals.com.